

Using colored pencils create a population density map of Australia and New Zealand. Read the sections in your Global Studies Tech book that describes where the people in Australia and New Zealand live. On your maps draw pictures that demonstrate you understand why the people live where they do in Australia and New Zealand. You can draw your pictures outside the borders and draw arrows. Why do they live in location x and not in location z. Use your resources.